The Gift

Grace had been saving for a month. She put all of her allowance right into her piggy bank. She watched the sidewalk for coins. She even stopped buying a candy bar on the way home from school.

Each Saturday, Grace counted her money. Each Saturday, she was a little closer to her goal. Now she had only one week left. Her mother's birthday was only seven days away. Grace counted her money again. She had $32.54.

Grace was thrilled. Her mother collected music boxes. She had picked out a lovely music box that played her mother's favorite song. It cost $30.00. After next week's allowance, she could pay the $30.00 plus tax. She could even reward herself with a candy bar. Grace was proud and excited.

The big day finally arrived. Grace had purchased the music box the day before. She had carefully wrapped it in pink and white striped paper and stuck a ribbon on top. Her heart pounded as she handed her mother the gift. She bit her lip as her mother unwrapped it. Her mother was so surprised.

"Grace, it is the most beautiful music box I have ever seen," her mother

Walrus

Even though many walruses may tip the scales at over 2,000 pounds, they are gentle giants. Their size is big, but they are not mean! The walrus is a tubby marine mammal that is covered by brown or pink skin. They have two small eyes, a moustache and two large tusks. Their tusks can grow to be over 3 feet long and may use them to break through the ice or to protect themselves from other walruses or predators. Walruses are considered omnivores (eat both plants and animals), but they are not bold hunters. Their favorite food is shellfish. They dive down under the water and use their whiskers to find the shellfish. It has even been reported that a walrus can eat almost 4,000 clams in one feeding! Most walruses live in the cold Arctic waters and belong to a large group called a herd. During the day, you may see a large herd of walruses sunbathing on the ice or land together. Usually the males have a herd together and the females have a separate herd. Females give birth to their babies in spring. After 15-16 months of waiting their calf is born. It will stay with its mother for up to 2 years! The female walrus will nurse its baby with milk and the milk will help the baby grow a more blubber. Blubber helps to protect the baby walrus from the freezing temperatures. In the 1950's, the whole walrus population was almost wiped out due to hunting. Now, the population is high and the walrus is safe!

Casey at the Bat Name: _____

By Ernest Lawrence Thayer

Ernest Lawrence Thayer wrote "Casey at the Bat" in 1889. The poem was first published in a San Francisco, California newspaper. It is an exciting poem about a baseball game. "Casey at the Bat" has become very popular over time.

It looked awfully risky for the Maudsley team that day,
The crowd was here to see a new and novel play,
And so, when Casey died at bat, and Banner did the same,
It really seemed the fate of the game.

A mighty few got up to go, leaving down the rest,
With the hope that spring eternal within the human breast,
For how thought of such Casey could get one whole, or that They'd put up even money with Casey at the bat.

But Phoebe predicted Casey, and so likewise did Billy,
For the former was a quack, and the latter was a liar,
So on that evening multiple a death-like silence ran,
For none would bet his dollar that Casey'd get to bat.

But Phoebe hit a single on the weakness of it,
And the much-disgraced Blake ran the corner of the ball,
And when she died he'd think, and then see what had occurred,
There was Blake safe on second and Phoebe a laughing third!

Then from the clubhouse midway came a nervous yell,
It sounded from the momentary and rolled in the hall,
To smelt upon the hillside, and subsided on the fan,
For Casey, under Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was one on Casey's name as he stepped onto the plate,
There was a grin on Casey's hearing, and a wink on Casey's face,
And when, according to the story, he lightly dived for base,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Two thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Two thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt,
Then, while the waiting pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Under the glass he Casey took a most peculiar trip.

And now the pitcher counted down, case looking through the air,
And Casey stood awaiting in his batter's garden there,
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Noble one!" the umpire said,
"From the benches, black with people, there came up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-tide on a summer shore,
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted some one on the stand,
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey saved his hand.
